

EUROPE.

The German plenipotentiary, Count Brockhausen, from Bremen, arrived at this port yesterday. He is accompanied by his wife and two children. He is the only one of his rank who has been received at the port. A proposition, emanating from the International Committee, which has its headquarters at Brussels, takes the initiative in recommending an adhesion of all Central Europe to the monetary convention of Paris. Prussia is particularly addressed.

The Dublin Express contains an account of the terrible removal of a girl into a nunnery in Belgium. The girl, named Jeanne, was a poor, but a very beautiful girl, who was taken from her father, who is a Protestant, and taken to a convent to become a nun.

The victory of Egypt reached Alexandria on the 20th ult., and on the following day it was celebrated with the usual pomp and circumstance. The Egyptian people were overjoyed at the news of the victory, and the British troops were hailed as liberators.

The new Algerian constitution will, it is said, be submitted to the French Senate as soon as possible after the Senate's return to Paris. The constitution is a very liberal one, and is expected to be accepted by the Senate.

In Austria sentences of confinement pronounced upon priests and "religieuses" of both sexes by their ecclesiastical superiors will, for the future, be deemed valid only in those cases in which they are voluntarily submitted to by the persons concerned. These regulations may safely assume, are due, partly at least, to the late shocking disclosures at Cracow.

Letters from Naples speak of the probability of a change of the Italian capital from Florence to Naples. Prince Pierre Bonaparte (a son of Prince Lucien, and a nephew of the first Napoleon) was married two years ago in Belgium to the daughter of a workman in the faubourg St. Antoine. The marriage has just been publicly acknowledged, thus rendering justice to the two children who are the issue of the marriage.

ENGLAND.

The Government and the Telegraphs. Mr. Scudamore, Assistant Secretary at the Post Office, the author of the scheme organized for transferring the management of the telegraphic systems from private companies to the government, has recently addressed a letter to the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. In answer to an application made by that body that a uniform rate of expense should be charged for all telegrams, he has replied that he is unable to do so.

I am directed to acquaint you that the Marquis of Hartington is not in possession of the advantages derivable from a uniform rate of expense for telegrams. He is, however, in possession of the advantages derivable from a uniform rate of expense for telegrams.

It is understood that the new cable which is intended to lay from the Orkneys through the Faroe Islands to Copenhagen, will be laid by the government. The cable will be laid by the government, and will be laid by the government.

CITY POLITICS.

Falling off in the Political Excitement.—The effect of the heated term—Fresh Danger—Three-Week Tammany—The Belmont Affair—The Action of the Tweed Democratic Association of the Seventh Ward—The Supervisorship.

The sudden rise of the thermometer has indirectly postponed all active operations in affairs political. There is, of course, no corresponding fall or lull in the political movements set on foot a few weeks ago.

The party in power and the new party have organized to test Tammany's efficiency in the municipal government—It may almost be said literally, as weak as metaphors, resting on their oars. The Tammany chiefs and all their most trusted lieutenants have returned to the Branch, Saratoga, Newport, &c., and resigned themselves over the peripatetic influences of old, old, certainly a rejuvenated lot, to a different term of the tolos far niente, and to a total disregard of all things that may tend to any further excitement and consequent aggravation of the heated term, under which even the politician, holding, as regards the genus homo, some relation to the pachyderm, or thick-skinned non-ruminator, in the animal kingdom, whose skins or consciences nothing can penetrate—even they have taken a nap.

As we before noted there is an evident desire on the part of the Tammany folks to keep things as quiet as possible. They are telegraphed of breakers ahead, and they are endeavoring to keep the old ship as close-hauled to the wind as possible. The object of their policy is to keep the Tammany ship from being threatened with the loss, it may be, of some sail, and with the loss of the Tammany ship.

There is something more than the bill of charges presented to the public in the resolutions adopted at the Tweed Democratic Association of the Seventh ward on Thursday evening last, to instigate to the Tammany movement of the Seventh ward. This is a very new organization—in fact a "hanger-on" to the Tammany movement. It is a "hanger-on" to the Tammany movement.
